Call for projects for artists, cultural structures and active structures for citizenship, integration and social action, for the development of educational activities as part of an artistic or cultural project

REGULATION

I. Foreword

Fondation Sommer is a foundation under Luxembourg law, governed by its articles of association and the law of 21 April 1928, as amended, on non-profit associations and foundations (the “1928 law”) or any law subsequent to it.

It was created in 2016 with the aim of strengthening the empowerment of children and young people through arts and culture in Luxembourg.

Empowerment:

The term empowerment refers to strategies and measures aimed at increasing the degree of independence and self-determination in the lives of individuals or communities and enabling them to assert their interests independently and responsibly. Empowerment is defined as a process in which groups of people (adults and children) feel encouraged to discover their strengths and skills, hone them properly and promote the solutions that they have found. It invites us not to focus on shortcomings but to offset them with our strengths.

Empowerment also refers to the professional mentoring of people to help them overcome their sense of helplessness and use their creative freedom as well as their innate resources and potentials. It is the shift from “doing for” (paternalistic and stigmatising) to “doing with” (emancipating and valuing)¹.

In this context, Fondation Sommer annually supports several participatory projects, working with arts and culture as tools for emancipation and involving children/youth and their families and communities. Fondation Sommer has thus set itself the goal of creating, through its projects, a social and cultural impact. It wishes to develop the capacity for reflection among young people and to commit itself to an open, enlightened and cohesive society. It wishes to contribute to the creation of knowledge and the exchange of transdisciplinary experiences. Finally, through the projects supported, it would like to promote mutual understanding between people and communities.

II. Objectives of the call

This call for proposals aims to encourage the implementation of educational activities as part of an artistic or cultural project in the following fields: performing arts, fine arts, visual arts, music, literature, design, multidisciplinary projects, architecture.

It is specifically aimed at artists and cultural structures as well as at active structures for citizenship, integration and social action, producers or organisers, who wish, through specific work or in the frame of a cultural project, to carry out cultural mediation aimed at a young audience between the ages of 3 and 20.

Its objectives are:

- to awaken the minds and cultural curiosity of children and young people by allowing them to discover in more detail a specific artistic universe and works;
- to give participants new tools to enable their personal and creative development;
- to actively involve children and young people in the development of an artistic work or a cultural project;
- to develop new skills through mutual learning as an artist/cultural/educational/social structure on the one hand and as a supervising pedagogical staff on the other.

Target audience of the projects: children, teenagers, young adults, families;

III. Recipients of the call

The projects must be proposed and implemented by individual artists or by individuals and teams from Luxembourg non-profit organisations. Any professional Luxembourg artist or an artist connected to Luxembourg and any organisation whose registered office and activities are based in Luxembourg may apply.

The following are eligible to submit a project:

- Freelance and independent artists*
- Companies, groups, ensembles or collectives of artists
- Cultural institutions and associations
- Educational and pedagogical structures in the formal and non-formal sector
- Active structures for citizenship, integration and social action

(*whether or not they have come together as a Luxembourg non-profit association)

Teams applying for financial support must operate in professional conditions. They are required to comply with accounting, tax and social security obligations.

IV. Selection criteria

The selection will be made according to various criteria such as the relevance and originality of the project, suitability with the targeted theme or the technical and financial feasibility of the project.

The projects must be innovative in nature, allowing children and young people to discover the themes and challenges of the artistic and cultural world. They can be held partly "extra muros", but must in large part allow participants to discover places of creation (artist's studio, auditorium, museum, etc.). The projects should focus more on collaboration, exchange and transmission of know-how than on the preparation of a final product, even if this can be part of the project (show, exhibition, etc.).

The funded educational projects can be implemented:

- in the context of creations/works in the process of being developed or planned;
- around existing or old creations/works, whose pedagogical potential deserves, according to the project leader, to be harnessed today in a precise context;
- as part of the preparation of a specific and temporary cultural project.

In all cases, the educational project must be linked to a specific artistic creation/work or cultural project.

Projects with a high potential for long-term impact will be given priority.

V. General and financial conditions

The amount of aid is determined according to the requirements and scope of the project and the estimated budget. It may not exceed EUR 7,000 per project.

The financial aid allocated to the selected projects should be considered as ad hoc support, allotted to specific projects of a specific duration. (Co-)financed projects must be new projects, in the sense that they do not fit into a plan already defined and financed previously. Under no circumstances may the financial support received by Fondation Sommer be used to finance general or operating expenses. It must be directly related to pedagogic activities carried out within the framework of the selected project. Expenditure generated prior to the submission of the application and prior to the official granting of support by the Foundation is not eligible for funding (principle of non-retroactivity). Fondation Sommer will verify the use of the amount received by requesting a financial statement, with accounting documents, at the end of the project.

Any financial support granted will be validated by the subsequent signature of a specific agreement between the main project leader and Fondation Sommer, specifying the obligations and rights of each party.

VI. Evaluation

Projects receiving financial support from Fondation Sommer are required to participate in an evaluation process to measure the impact of the project. This evaluation, to be carried out by the project leader, includes the drafting of a final project report, the completion of a written questionnaire, feedback from project participants in a free format, and a personal closing meeting with the Foundation.

VII. Submission of applications

In order to confirm that your project is admissible and in line with the visions of Fondation Sommer, we advise you to contact the Foundation's office early enough before submitting your application.
