Call for projects for:

(1) cultural and educational structures or

(2) cultural structures and active structures for citizenship, integration and social action

for the execution of a JOINT PROJECT

REGULATION

I. Foreword

Fondation Sommer is a foundation under Luxembourg law, governed by its articles of association and the law of 21 April 1928, as amended, on non-profit associations and foundations (the “1928 law”) or any law subsequent to it.

It was created in 2016 with the aim of strengthening the empowerment of children and young people through arts and culture in Luxembourg.

Empowerment:

The term empowerment refers to strategies and measures aimed at increasing the degree of independence and self-determination in the lives of individuals or communities and enabling them to assert their interests independently and responsibly. Empowerment is defined as a process in which groups of people (adults and children) feel encouraged to discover their strengths and skills, hone them properly and promote the solutions that they have found. It invites us not to focus on shortcomings but to offset them with our strengths.

Empowerment also refers to the professional mentoring of people to help them overcome their sense of helplessness and use their creative freedom as well as their innate resources and potentials. It is the shift from “doing for” (paternalistic and stigmatising) to “doing with” (emancipating and valuing)¹.

In this context, Fondation Sommer annually supports several participatory projects, working with arts and culture as tools for emancipation and involving children/youth and their families and communities. Fondation Sommer has thus set itself the goal of creating, through its projects, a social and cultural impact. It wishes to develop the capacity for reflection among young people and to commit itself to an open, enlightened and cohesive society. It wishes to contribute to the creation of knowledge and the exchange of transdisciplinary experiences. Finally, through the projects supported, it would like to promote mutual understanding between people and communities.

II. Objectives of the call

This call for proposals aims to encourage an alliance between the cultural sector on the one hand and the education or social action sectors on the other, through a joint project aimed at young people. The project brings together organizations belonging to at least two sectors, of which the cultural sector is compulsory:

- (1) cultural structures and educational structures
- (2) cultural structures and structures active in the field of citizenship, integration and social action

It is specifically intended for structures that wish to devise a new model of cooperation in the field of cultural and artistic education.

Its objectives are:

- to awaken the minds and curiosity of children and young people between the ages of 3 and 20 by allowing them to discover artistic creations and to express themselves through the arts;
- to give participants new tools to enable their personal and creative development;
- to develop new skills for project partners through mutual learning;
- to design and implement new forms of cooperation.

Target audience of the projects: children, teenagers, young adults, families;

III. Recipients of the call

The projects must be proposed and implemented by individuals and teams from Luxembourg non-profit organisations. Any organisation whose registered office and activities are based in Luxembourg may submit a project.

The following are eligible to submit a project:

- Cultural institutions and associations
- Artist collectives
- Educational and pedagogical structures in the formal and non-formal sector
- Active structures for citizenship, integration and social action

The projects must be submitted in teams between (1) cultural structures and educational structures, or between (2) cultural structures and structures active in the field of citizenship, integration and social action, with a main project leader and one or more partners. A project can thus have several cultural and educational or social structures as partners, as long as the form of collaboration remains consistent and the partners are clearly identified at the time of submitting the application.

Teams applying for financial support must operate in professional conditions. They are required to comply with accounting, tax and social security obligations.

IV. Selection criteria

The selection will be made according to various criteria such as the relevance and originality of the project, suitability with the targeted theme or the technical and financial feasibility of the project.

The projects must be innovative in nature in order to bring a new dynamic within the above-mentioned sectors. By “innovative”, Fondation Sommer refers in particular to the development of new expertise or the creation of innovative partnerships in the artistic and educational fields. This is not only a matter of cooperation between these distinct partners, but also of ensuring that their respective competences are effective as part of alliances and that the cooperation has a lasting effect.

Projects with a high potential for long-term impact will be given priority.

V. General and financial conditions

The amount of aid is determined according to the requirements and scope of the project and the estimated budget. It may not exceed EUR 10,000 per project.

The financial aid allocated to the selected projects should be considered as ad hoc support, allotted to specific projects of a specific duration. (Co-)financed projects must be new projects, in the sense that they do not fit into a plan already defined and financed previously. Under no circumstances may the financial support received by Fondation Sommer be used to finance general or operating expenses. It must be directly related to pedagogic activities carried out within the framework of the selected project. Expenditure generated prior to the submission of the application and prior to the official granting of support by the Foundation is not eligible for funding (principle of non-retroactivity). Fondation Sommer will verify the use of the amount received by requesting a financial statement, with accounting documents, at the end of the project.

Any financial support granted will be validated by the subsequent signature of a specific agreement between the main project leader and Fondation Sommer, specifying the obligations and rights of each party.

VI. Evaluation

Projects receiving financial support from Fondation Sommer are required to participate in an evaluation process to measure the impact of the project. This evaluation, to be carried out by the project leader, includes the drafting of a final project report, the completion of a written questionnaire, feedback from project participants in a free format, and a personal closing meeting with the Foundation.

VII. Submission of applications

In order to confirm that your project is admissible and in line with the visions of Fondation Sommer, we advise you to contact the Foundation's office early enough before submitting your application.
